Reading local documents

Reading helps us understand the world.
We can compare English and Chinese as we read.

Water management affects methane emissions.
Scientific terms should be checked against the original.